

Winter College Lecture

This lecture is held in conjunction with the KP Moore Medal Presentations (previously the GSK Competition) and in recent years as part of the Winter Anaesthesia Weekend. The presenter of this prestigious event is awarded the Winter College Lecture Medal by the College.

2013: Professor Justiaan Swanevelder, Professor and Head Department of Anaesthesia, University of Cape Town. 'The value of Perioperative Echocardiography'.

Previous Winners

2016: Dr Brian Marsh, Consultant in Anaesthesia & Intensive Care Medicine Clinical Director – CCAEST, Mater Hospital.

'How shall we care for our elderly critically ill'

2015: Dr John Carlisle, Intensivist, Torbay hospital, Devon, UK.

'Most research findings are false, occasionally because researchers make stuff up'.

2014: Prof Paul Myles, Director, Dept of Anaesthesia and Perioperative Medicine, Alfred Hospital and Monash University, Melbourne, Australia.

2013: Prof Justiaan Swanevelder, Professor and Head of Department of Anaesthesia at the University of Cape Town, Groote Schuur and Red Cross War Memorial Children's Hospitals in South Africa.

'The value of Perioperative Echocardiography'

'The safety of nitrous oxide: the findings of the ENIGMA-II trial'.

2012: Dr William Harrop-Griffiths 'Innovation, Technology and Safety A sceptic's view of a changing world'.

2011: Dr David Bogod, President of the Obstetric Association of Anaesthetists, is entitled "Medicolegal implications of nerve blocks and neuraxial anaesthesia".

2010: Dr Donal Nyhan, "Vascular Biology of Ageing"

2009: Prof Scott Beattie 'A Framework for Making Evidence Based Decisions in Anaesthesia'

2008: Dr Jennifer Hunter 'A Novel Approach to Reversal'

2007: Prof Beverley Orser 'MAC, Memory and the Mechanisms of Anaesthesia'.

2006: Prof Mark Warner "'Perioperative Neuropathies, Blindness and Positioning Problems'.

2005: Dr Monty Mythen 'Are your gases flowing freely?'

2004: Dr Brian Kavanagh 'Research in Anaesthesia: The Future and The Need'

Ms Orla Doran
Education Department